

European University
Institute

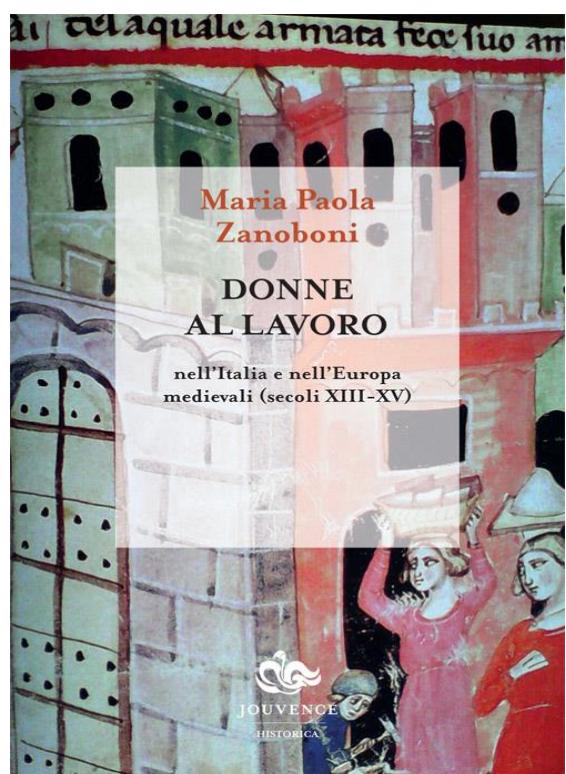

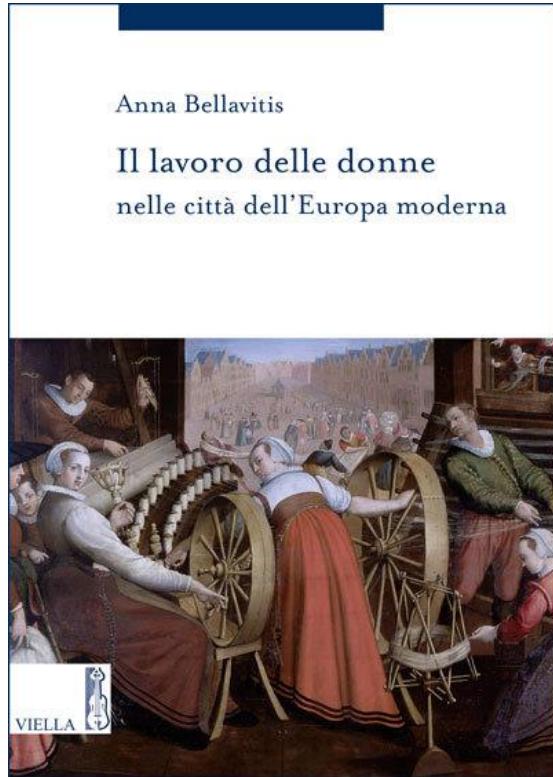

DEPARTMENT
OF HISTORY
AND CIVILIZATION

WORKSHOP

Women's Work in Pre-industrial Europe

12 December 2016

14.00 – 17.45, Sala dei Levrieri - Villa Salviati, Via Bolognese 156 50139 Firenze, Italy

This year, the often neglected issue of female work in Pre-industrial Europe has been tackled by two innovative books published in Italy: Anna Bellavitis's "Il lavoro delle donne nelle città dell'Europa moderna" and Maria Paola Zanoboni's "Donne al lavoro nell' Italia e nell' Europa medievali (secoli XIII-XV)". In this workshop, we bring together the authors of the two books seeking to investigate the economic roles of women in Pre-industrial Europe.

Languages: English, French, Italian

Programme

14.10 Welcome address and introductory remarks

14.15 1st session – Round table: Female work in Pre-industrial Europe.

Discussion on the books by Anna Bellavitis and Maria Paola Zanoboni.

Anna Bellavitis (GRHis, University of Rouen Normandie / Institut Universitaire de France)

Isabelle Chabot (Società Italiana delle Storiche)

Franco Franceschi (University of Siena)

Angela Groppi (University of Roma la Sapienza)

Luca Molà (European University Istitute/ University of Warwick)

Maria Giuseppina Muzzarelli (University of Bologna)

Maria Paola Zanoboni (University of Milano)

16.00 Coffee break

16.15 2nd session – PhD students’ presentations

16.15 Serena Galasso (CRH, EHESS)

La memoria economica delle donne (Firenze secc. XV-XVI)

16.45 Emilie Fiorucci (European University Istitute)

Femmes et affaires boutiquières à Venise au XVI^e siècle

17.15 Matteo Pompermaier

(GRHis, University of Rouen Normandie/ University Ca’Foscari of Venezia)

Il valore degli oggetti: il credito su pegno nelle osterie e bastioni a Venezia nell’epoca moderna

17.45 Conclusions