

GLOBALCIT Annual Conference

The Value of Citizenship for Individuals and States

21-22 November 2019

Sala Europa - Villa Schifanoia, Via Boccaccio 121 - Florence

Rainer Bauböck | European University Institute and Austrian Academy of Sciences

Jelena Džankić | European University Institute

Jo Shaw | University of Edinburgh and Tampere University

Maarten P. Vink | Maastricht University

Introduction

This conference addresses the question of what value citizenship has for individuals and states from various disciplinary perspectives, including comparative political science, normative political theory, law, history, human geography and economics. Papers explore the instrumental and identity value of citizenship for individuals as well as for states. Panels focus on citizenship and social and political rights, citizenship and the politics of migration control, the governance of citizenship around the world, evolving conceptions of citizenship, and the value of citizenship for vulnerable groups.

The conference is co-financed by the Migrant Life Course and Legal Status Transition (MiLifeStatus) project and the Global Citizenship Governance project, which have received funding from the European Research Council (ERC) under the European Union's Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation Programme (Grant No. 682626 and Grant No. 716350).

Programme

21 November

09.00 - 09.30 Welcome and registration

09.30 - 10.30 Keynote: The populist challenge to constitutional citizenship

Jo Shaw | University of Edinburgh and Tampere University

Chair:

Rainer Bauböck | European University Institute and Austrian Academy of Sciences

10.30 - 12.15 Panel 1: (Re)Evaluating the bonds of citizenship

Chair-discussant:

Emilien Fargues | European University Institute

From international to domestic law – how the principle of attachment organizes membership

Ashley Mantha-Hollands | WZB Berlin Social Science Center and European University Institute

Changing while preserving – the (dis)continuity of citizenship narratives

Johanna Hase | WZB Berlin Social Science Center

Law and belonging in African states; the legacy of colonial legal systems for ideas of belonging

Bronwen Manby | London School of Economics

12.15 - 13.15 Lunch

13.15 - 14.30 Panel 2: Citizenship and the politics of migration control

Chair-discussant:

Martin Ruhs | European University Institute

In for a penny, or: if you disapprove of investment migration, why do you approve of high-skilled migration?

Lior Erez | University of Haifa

Citizenship configurations reflected in migration policies beyond Europe (evidence from the IMISEM dataset)

Luicy Pedroza, Pau Palop, and So Young Chang | German Institute of Global and Area Studies

14.30 - 14.45 Coffee break

14.45 - 16.30 Panel 3: The future value of European citizenship

Chair-discussant:

Jo Shaw | University of Edinburgh and Tampere University

The human right to citizenship in Europe: Brexit as a stress test

Maria Dicosola | University of Bari Aldo Moro

Regional citizenship and the inclusion deficit of third-country nationals

Roberta Medda-Windischer | Institute for Minority Rights Eurac

The value of values: the introduction of arbitrariness by citizenship by investment programmes as an erosion factor of the rule of law in the EU

Elena Prats | Uppsala University

16.30 - 18.15 Panel 4: Books in dialogue

Yossi Harpaz, Citizenship 2.0. Dual Nationality as a Global Asset, Princeton University Press, 2019. ISBN: 978-0-691-19405-9

Jelena Džankić, The Global Market for Investor Citizenship, Palgrave Macmillan, 2019. ISBN: 978-3-030-17631-0

Discussants:

Rainer Bauböck | European University Institute and Austrian Academy of Sciences

Ashley Mantha-Hollands | WZB Berlin Social Science Center and European University Institute

Szabolcs Pogonyi | Central European University

Jo Shaw | University of Edinburgh and Tampere University

22 November

09.00 - 10.45 Panel 5: Evolving conceptions of citizenship

Chair-discussant:

Maarten P. Vink | Maastricht University

The constitutional value of Australian citizenship

Elisa Arcioni | University of Sydney Law School

Duties, loyalty, and citizenship: an analysis of the German case

Claus Hofhansel | Rhode Island College

Ethno-national citizenship reconsidered: the cases of Israel's "one-time" naturalization schemes in 2005 and 2010

Yuri Keum | Ben-Gurion University of the Negev

10.45 - 11.00 Coffee break

11.00 - 12.15 Panel 6: Governing citizenship around the world

Chair-discussant:

Iseult Honohan | University College Dublin

Who's selling? Trends and determinants of citizenship-by-investment (CBI) programs around the world, 1980-2018

Mira Seyfettinoglu | Maastricht University

Ayelet Shachar | Max Planck Institute for the Study of Religious and Ethnic Diversity

Jelena Džankić | European University Institute

Maarten P. Vink | Maastricht University

Who may represent our country? Football, migration and national belonging at the FIFA World Cup 1930-2022

Gijsbert Oonk | Erasmus University Rotterdam

12.15 - 13.15 Lunch

13.15 - 15.00 Panel 7: The value of citizenship for vulnerable groups

Chair-discussant:

Amanda Frost | American University

Visible minorities, invisible citizens: the value of citizenship for Roma as marginalized minorities in Europe

Julija Sardelic | Victoria University of Wellington and KU Leuven

A stony path to equal rights: from refugee status to citizenship

Lena Riemer | Freie Universität Berlin

Criminals as citizens: citizenship revocation and the value of citizenship

Milena Tripkovic | University of Edinburgh

15.00 - 16.15 Panel 8: Citizenship and social and political rights

Chair-discussant:

Leiza Brumat | European University Institute

An echo from the past: The constitutional disqualification of dual citizens from the Australian parliament

Rayner Thwaites and Helen Irving | The University of Sydney

The value of citizenship in access to social protection: conceptual and methodological challenge

Daniela Vintila and Jean-Michel Lafleur | Université de Liège

16.15 - 16.30 Coffee break

16.30 - 17.30 Keynote: The Stories We Tell: living citizenship myths

Kristy A. Belton | The International Studies Association

Chair:

Jelena Džankić | European University Institute

Speakers

Elisa Arcioni	University of Sydney Law School, Australia
Rainer Bauböck	European University Institute and Austrian Academy of Sciences, Italy and Austria
Kristy A. Belton	The International Studies Association, USA
Leiza Brumat	European University Institute, Italy
So Young Chang	German Institute of Global and Area Studies, Germany
Maria Dicosola	Aldo Moro University of Bari, Italy
Jelena Džankić	European University Institute, Italy
Lior Erez	University of Haifa, Israel
Emilien Fargues	European University Institute, Italy
Amanda Frost	American University, USA
Yossi Harpaz	Tel-Aviv University, Israel
Johanna Hase	WZB Berlin Social Science Center, Germany
Claus Hofhansel	Rhode Island College, USA
Iseult Honohan	University College Dublin, Ireland
Helen Irving	The University of Sydney, Australia
Yuri Keum	Ben-Gurion University of the Negev, Israel
Bronwen Manby	London School of Economics, United Kingdom
Ashley Mantha-Hollands	WZB Berlin Social Science Center and European University Institute, Germany and Italy
Roberta Medda-Windischer	Institute for Minority Rights Eurac, Italy
Gijsbert Oonk	Erasmus University Rotterdam, The Netherlands
Pau Palop	German Institute of Global and Area Studies, Germany
Luicy Pedroza	German Institute of Global and Area Studies, Germany
Szabolcs Pogonyi	Central European University, Hungary
Elena Prats	Uppsala University, Sweden
Lena Riemer	Freie Universität Berlin, Germany
Martin Ruhs	European University Institute, Italy
Julija Sardelic	Victoria University of Wellington and KU Leuven, Australia and Belgium
Mira Seyfettinoglu	Maastricht University, The Netherlands
Jo Shaw	University of Edinburgh and Tampere University, United Kingdom and

Finland

Rayner Thwaites

The University of Sydney, Australia

Milena Tripkovic

University of Edinburgh, United Kingdom

Luuk Van Der Baaren

European University Institute, Italy

Maarten P. Vink

Maastricht University, The Netherlands

Daniela Vintila

Université de Liège, Belgium