The Assemani Seminar for Eastern Catholic History is a series of online events that aims to create a common platform for conversation between scholars interested in the history of various Eastern Catholic communities from the Middle Ages until today. The main goal of this initiative is to enable exchange between scholars specialised in different periods and regions, most prominently the ones studying the Eastern European Uniates/Greek Catholics and experts in the Mediterranean and Middle Eastern communities of non-Latin Catholics and other Christians. Each seminar will take place in a roundtable format with two or three informal presentations followed by a general discussion.

Location

- The Zoom meetings will be accessible around 5 minutes before the beginning of each session. For security reasons, please do not circulate the zoom link without prior authorization.
- Video and audio: we strongly encourage everyone to keep their video on in order to retain a feeling of presence and community; however, everyone but the presenters should mute their microphones.
- Questions should be asked during the Q&A or privately to the presenter. You can write your question in the chat during or after the presentation; alternatively, use the “raise hand” feature of Zoom (by clicking on “participants” in the bottom of your screen and then on “raise hand” in the bottom right corner), wait for the acknowledgement by the presenter (during the presentation) or the chairs (during the discussion), then unmute your microphone, and speak up.
